Back to School Reminders

As teachers and staff, it is important to follow good safety practices to prevent injuries to ourselves and others. The following safety awareness reminders summarize the hazards and concerns that have caused frequent and severe injuries to employees within School Districts.

- Be alert to hazards in your environment, custodians are preparing the school for opening.
- Don't stand on chairs or tables. Use step ladder or a stool made for climbing.
- Wear proper footwear; preferably something with non-slip soles, closed toe, low heels and secured at the back.
- Practice good housekeeping.
- Don't ignore signs.
- Use proper lifting techniques. Do not attempt to lift heavy boxes. Empty heavy boxes by removing items that can be safely handled at one time.
- Report any safety concerns.
